AMERICAN ADMIRAL IS ORDERED TO THE NEAR EAST; TURKS INVADE NEUTRAL ZONE

British Rush Troops And Warships To Straits

ALDERSHOT, ENGLAND, Sept. 27.—Nearly 3,000 soldiers of all ranks left here today for embarkation to the near East.

TURK CONDITIONS UNACCEPTABLE
CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 27.—(By The Associated Press)—It is unofficially forecast that the Kemal reply to the allied peace note contains conditions unacceptable to the allies, in that the nationalists insist upon the use of the straits for transporting troops to Thrace before the beginning of the peace conference.

TURK TROOPS INVADE NEUTRAL ZONE
LONDON, Sept. 27.—(By The Associated Press)—More Turkish nationalist troops have drifted into the Chanaq zone, according to official advices from Constantinople to today. This is not regarded in authoritative quarters, however, as aggravating the situation much, and the opinion was expressed in these quarters that trouble would be avoided.

PARIS, Sept. 27.—(By The Associated Press)—Vice Admiral Andrew T. Long, U. S. N., commander of the American naval forces in European waters, has gone to Constantinople to direct the naval operations should any become necessary in participation with the foreign squadrons, it was stated today.

Vice Admiral Long's mission, it is explained, is quite apart from that of Rear Admiral Mark L. Bristol, the American high commissioner to Turkey, whose political jurisdiction will remain unchanged.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—(By The Associated Press)—Paris news dispatches announcing that Vice Admiral Long of the American navy had gone to Constantinople to direct possible "naval operations" were not understood in official circles here where it was indicated that participation of American warships in any demonstration against the Turks was not a part of the present American policy toward the near eastern problem. At the navy department it was said that so far as the Washington government had been advised, Admiral Long was on board his flagship the battleship Utah, either at Lisbon or on the way to Gibraltar, where the Utah is due on October 3. He has planned to go to Constantinople later, but only for the purpose of observing conditions and co-operating with Rear Admiral Bristol in relief work. The state department likewise was without official notification of any change in previous plans regarding the disposition of American warships in European waters, and it was said that the policy of this government to confine its near eastern activities to relief measures remained unaltered.

Pope Urges Prevention Of Bloodshed
ROME, Sept. 27.—(By The Associated Press)—Pope Pius today telegraphed Mustafa Kemal Pasha urging that the Turkish commander adopt every possible measure to avoid further bloodshed.

Has No Knowledge Of Neutral Zone
LONDON, Sept. 27.—(By The Associated Press)—Mustafa Kemal Pasha, replying to General Harrington's ultimatum, evades the question of the withdrawal of the Turkish troops as demanded, says a Reuter dispatch from Constantinople, but declares that Kemal has no knowledge of a neutral zone. He complains of the action of the British in destroying buildings and roads and concludes by saying he concurs with the allies in the desire to avoid incidents.

Embargo On Lake Coal?

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 27.—(By The Associated Press)—The Baltimore and Ohio Railway today will declare an embargo upon coal shipments to lake ports according to information obtained in authoritative sources here today.

The contemplated action, it was said, is due to the approaching strike of lake sailors, which has already begun to take effect, with vessel men leaving their ships at various ports. It was said that the B. and O. already has 7,500 cars of coal at the port of Lorain while on nearly all other roads more coal has been shipped to lake ports than the steamships can handle even under normal labor conditions. The B. and O. today issued an order lifting the embargo which has been in force against less than carload shipments on the main line east. The coming embargo on lake shipments, it was said, will insure a larger supply of coal for domestic and industrial purposes in the east and middle-west.

FRELINGHUYSEN SCORES SWEEPING PRIMARY VICTORY

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 27.—United States Senator Joseph Frelinghuysen, friend of President Harding and one of the administration leaders in congress, was re-nominated by the Republicans of New Jersey in a sweeping victory of more than two to one over George L. Record, a Jersey City lawyer.

The senator carried twenty counties with little effort and after a hard struggle apparently had pulled through today in Mercer county by about 2,000 votes. Returns from 2,054 of the 2,404 districts and the state gave him 146,933 votes against 69,922 for Record a lead of 77,011.

Senator Frelinghuysen took Hudson county with Jersey City, his opponent's home, by almost 3 to 1, upsetting predictions.

The senator waged his campaign on two main issues, prohibition and the tariff. He did not discuss the soldier bonus against which he voted, and he answered Record's charge that he was sympathetic with monopolies.

In the November elections, Senator Frelinghuysen will fight it out at the polls with Governor Edwards the Democratic nominee, for U. S. senator. As Governor Edwards is the champion of the "wet" New Jersey voters expect a warm contest on the prohibition issue.

Most of the Republican congressmen who were opposed in yesterday's battle seemed today to have been victorious over non-organization candidates.

Neither Democrats nor Republicans had a contest for the gubernatorial nomination. The Republicans nominated State Senator Wm. N. Runyon for governor and the Democrats nominated Judge George S. Sizor.

Deluge Of Bills In House

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—(By The Associated Press)—More than 13,000 bills—33,711 by actual count—of all sorts and description were introduced in the house since the 47th congress went to work in April, 1921. Clerks checking up today found that of this number 1,957 were passed.

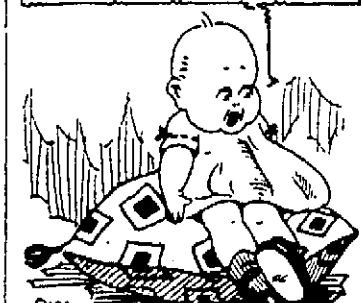

In the 66th congress 15,492 bills were presented and 734 of these became laws.

"Anybody can throw a bill into the hopper," said a veteran legislator, "but it takes a wise man to put it through the mill."

Truck Hit; Driver Rides Cowcatcher

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 27.—(By The Associated Press)—"And that is all there is to it," said Blair Runyan, employee of the Ohio State Highway Commission, as he lit a cigarette and walked away.

In twenty minutes the remains of what was once a five-ton automobile truck, was cleared from the Pennsylvania tracks and the New York Flyer proceeded on its way.

"Some persons are born lucky," mused the engineer. "Here is a fellow in a truck hit by a train going 65 miles an hour and not a scratch."

The motor truck which Runyan was driving was hit by the train at Kings Mills, Ohio yesterday. The engine of the truck was thrown more than 200 feet and the truck, filled with gravel, was dragged a half mile, while the engineer made frantic efforts to stop the train.

Instead of finding Runyan's body as they expected, the train crew found him in the cowcatcher of the engine, uninjured.

"Thanks for the free ride, old top," said Runyan, as passengers and train crew rubbed their eyes.

HAWK TAKES FIGHT ON BEER AMENDMENT TO SUPREME COURT

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 27.—(By The Associated Press)—The state supreme court was appealed to today in an effort to prevent the proposed light and beer amendment coming to a vote of the people at the November election. Geo. S. Hawk, Cincinnati, dry leader, who yesterday was denied a writ of injunction by the Franklin county appellate court to prevent Secretary of State Smith from putting the proposal on the ballot, filed an appeal today in the supreme court.

Hawk contends that the petitioners are invalid in that more than half the signatures are signed with an indelible pencil whereas ink should have been used. Secretary Smith held the signing with an indelible pencil met the requirements.

In refusing an injunction yesterday, the court of appeals held that Hawk, through the secretary of state, as a public officer, has had his day in court in the secretary's defense against the mandamus action which resulted in him being ordered by the highest tribunal to place the amendment on the ballot, and that for an inferior court to issue an order contrary to that made by a superior court would be bad law and breed disrespect for law enforcement.

"If Ford Forgot Two Million Deposit, Also Forgot Taxes"

DETROIT, MICH., Sept. 27.—(By The Associated Press)—If Henry Ford forgot about a deposit of $2,000,000 in a Windsor, Ont., bank, as was reported several days ago, it is quite certain that he also neglected to make a tax return on the deposit, Alexander Black, assessment commissioner of Windsor, reasoned today, as he started an investigation of the manufacturer's cash resources across the border.

The commissioner figured Mr. Ford owed the city of Windsor about $5,400 in taxes for the three years the $2,000,000 was said to have been on deposit.

Woman Pleads Guilty To Carrying Weapons

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 27.—Mrs. Josephine Gillespie, 1909 Scott street, Cleveland, a sister of Sam Purpora, who was electrocuted at the state penitentiary, May 9, for his part in the St. Vener murder and payroll robbery, today pleaded guilty in common pleas court to carrying concealed weapons and was given a suspended sentence of one year in the Marysville reformatory for women. The charges against Mrs. Gillespie resulted in her attempt to smuggle a pistol into the penitentiary to her brother with which to kill himself before the day set for his electrocution, she told the court.

PART OF THE ARMY AND NAVY JOIN IN BLOODLESS REVOLT

LONDON, Sept. 27.—(By The Associated Press)—Greece is in the throes of a revolution which has already caused the downfall of the government and has forced the unhappy Constantine to abdicate in favor of the crown prince, thus losing his throne for the second time in five years.

The revolutionary movement which is said to be led by General Genatas, is making headway in all directions.

At least part of the navy has gone against the government and several warships and transports manned by revolutionaries are believed to be advancing on the capital from the Aegean islands where the revolt originated.

Confirmation of King Constantine's abdication has been received by the British foreign office, it was announced this evening.

The insurrection which, while not altogether unlooked for, broke out in formidable force with unexpected suddenness, had its inception among the vanquished troops brought from Smyrna to the islands of Mytilene and Chios and among the soldiers at Saloniki.

Strangely enough however, these two revolts seem to have had different objects—the former directed at the overthrow of the government and King Constantine and the latter at the defense of Thrace against the Turks.

The Mytilene and Chios revolts were apparently the most formidable, they quickly won supporters, with the result that the king on being presented with an ultimatum demanding a new government immediately, accepted the resignation of his ministers.

In the meantime, Greek war ships manned by insurrectionists, are steaming to Greece from the two islands to enforce the edict of the revolutionists.

The revolutionary movement is headed by an officer named Genatas, variously described as a general and a colonel, who organized the soldiers on the islands of Mytilene and Chios, off the Smyrna coast, to which they were removed following their crushing defeat by the Turkish nationalists. An order for the demobilization of these troops is said to have been the immediate cause of their mutiny.

The revolt quickly spread to the navy and many of the warships refused to answer queries sent out by the admiralty. An airplane appeared over Athens and showered the city with pamphlets signed by Genatas and demanding the resignation of the government and the abdication of the king. This created turmoil in the capital and crowds surged through the streets and about the public buildings. Then a number of the war vessels started for Athens.

A large number of troops mutinied in Saloniki, but this development is said to have taken the form of a military movement organized in Thrace against the Turks.

Official circles here believe former Premier Venizelos has had no part in the revolt. Because of his importance, however, and his large personal following in Greece, it is pointed out that he will hardly be able to avoid figuring in the subsequent developments.

Greek Fleet Joins Revolution

LONDON, Sept. 27.—(By The Associated Press)—The Greek fleet has gone over to the revolutionaries who announce that every officer and member of the crews is wholly with them, according to a Central News Dispatch from Athens. The movement which is headed by Colonel Genatas, is making headway in all directions. The dispatch, which is dated Tuesday night, says the cabinet had been in continuous session for many hours. No official statements had been issued, but it was understood that the ministers were drawing up a manifesto addressed to the people. Thus far, it adds, the revolution had been bloodless, despite the excitement of the people who were surging through the streets and gathering outside the public buildings.

Revolutionaries Proceeding Toward Athens

LONDON, Sept. 27.—(By The Associated Press)—A number of Greek warships and transports manned by revolutionaries, have left the island of Mytilene, off the coast of Smyrna and are proceeding toward Athens, according to messages from authoritative sources here. According to the same sources the revolutionary movement started on the islands of Mytilene and Chios among the soldiers and refugees from the Smyrna district. All officers who refuse to join the movement are being arrested, it is added.

King Accepts Cabinet's Resignation

ATHENS, Sept. 27.—(By The Associated Press)—King Constantine has accepted the resignation of the cabinet, which quickly followed the reception of two ultimatums from the Cruiser Lemnos.

In accepting the resignation the King said he entirely put aside any idea of resistance which would bring as a result civil war in Greece. The crown prince has abandoned his proposed journey to Rumania for the royal marriage.

(The foregoing dispatch is dated in Athens today, but the hour of filing was not indicated.)

Abdicates Without Reservation

FIRE AGAIN BREAKS OUT IN JEWETT MILL

Firemen from the Seventh street and East End companies were called to Fourteenth and Chillicothe streets three times Tuesday evening to extinguish flames that started in half-burned hay and shelled corn. Hay in the destroyed grain elevator of T. G. Jewett & Sons was on fire once and the other time flames broke forth from the half destroyed mill. Sparks in shelled corn or in half charred timbers started the fire again and neighbors called firemen to extinguish the flames which might have wiped out the remainder of the mill.

and storage building had they got a fresh start during the night. Telephone men were on the job all day yesterday and replaced burned poles and damaged wires and telephones. Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Mader found yesterday that two chairs constituted all the furniture removed from their burning home Monday afternoon. Friends had told them that helping hands carried out some of their furniture but the two chairs were all that could be found. Mr. and Mrs. Mader lost many jars of canned fruit and 500 glasses of jelly.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Smith found that although some of their household effects had been moved out the majority of the pieces removed were broken and damaged. Persons in the house threw glassware from the second story window. No trace has been found of jewelry that was left in the room occupied by Mr. Smith's daughter. Mr. and Mrs. Smith are living in their business block at Fifteenth and Chillicothe streets. He said today that he would rebuild on his lot just north of the destroyed elevator. The rear of his eight room home is only slightly damaged.

T. G. Jewett said today that he had not as yet decided on his future plans relative to the mill and feed business. He carried some insurance, but not enough to cover the damage to the mill and storage building and destroyed elevator. The big fire Monday afternoon recalls the Vogel Bros. meal and feed mill fire of the summer of 1919. The Vogel Bros. mill was located on Chillicothe street about two hundred feet south of the present Jewett mill. It was completely wiped out.

Claims Property Owners On Gallia Street Want Asphalt

When asked if it were true that Gallia street property owners would hold a meeting Friday night to decide definitely whether they would repave that street with brick or resurface it, Charles C. Horr, member of the city council and a Gallia street property owner, Wednesday said:

"I know nothing about a meeting being called for Friday night. I do know that about 90 per cent of the property owners signed to have the street resurfaced with asphalt or any other bituminous material. This is settled so far as the property owners are concerned. Some people are trying to ram brick down our throats, but we know what we want and have decided on asphalt.

It was rumored Wednesday that those opposed to asphalt being used on that thoroughfare would likely hold a meeting Friday night to discuss the merits of brick.

Accused Of Reckless Driving, Woman Must Appear In Court To Face Charge

When the case of Edith Tackett, 23, of near Scottdale, charged with reckless driving, was called for trial in Municipal court, Wednesday, the defendant failed to respond which caused Judge McCall to continue the case until the accused can be brought into court.

The complaint is an aftermath of a collision between a Dodge touring car driven by the defendant and the closed White delivery truck of the Anderson Bros. company, which occurred at Seventh and Chillicothe streets shortly after one o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

The touring car was traveling west on Seventh street at a pretty lively speed, according to the police investigation, and crashed into the truck which was being driven south on Chillicothe street by Grant Orin, 1401 Park avenue.

No one was hurt in the smash up, but the truck was considerably damaged, the left front wheel being torn entirely off, while the engine rest frame was broken and the fender and mud guard were smashed.

"Come Across" Is The Slogan Of Chairman Cunningham's Campaign

Chairman Eddie Cunningham, of the Republican county committee has ceased his operations and heavy work as front of the county clerk's office (all except drawing a huge salary), and moved himself down to the Republican club, where he says he has set the republican county campaign in motion. The County Chairman says he started things to sizzling right off the reel and it is his intention to show Frank Moulton, George Matthews, Marvin Clark and similar would-be republican leaders how a real campaign should be run. The world's are also advised to forget how "Eddie's Friends" felt when the ticket don't suit 'em.

For publication Chairman Cunningham issued this statement Tuesday, intending it as a little sideshow to the Pageant:

"Scottdale county will go republican by a big majority. Congressman Kearns will be re-elected.

"As to Kearns, hasn't he always upset the calculations of the Democrats? Some days ago a voice from Washington crept into the Cincinnati Enquirer saying things that this district is hopelessly lost to the Republicans. Let's see," said Cunningham.

"Who is the Washington correspondent of the Enquirer?" he continued. "It seems to me that it is Bud Gableman, brother of Mayor Hill, who aspires to Kearns' job. Well, Bud, is a pretty good writer, but the people will not vote as Bud writes. The Democrats are using all kinds of propaganda to further Gableman's interests.

"It reminds me," he continued, "of the story of the doctor who was called into a case which he could not diagnose. After considerable discussion he finally told the family that if they could throw the patient into a cell of protest from the annoyed who insist upon pointing out that in these hard times they are not as flush as they were in the good old Wilson days of plenty and prosperity. But the County Chairman is going to be firm, adamant, strong-hearted.

"Come Across" is his slogan. And then he will point out how fine it is to draw down fat and easy salaries from the county treasury with sleazebags to do all the work. It'll be a "Gr-and an' glorius feelin'," chants Eddie.

ROBBERY MOTIVE ADVANCED

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Sept. 27.—(By the Associated Press)—Authorities investigating the slaying two weeks ago of the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall, rector of the Episcopal Church of St. John, the Evangelist, and his choir leader, Mrs. Eleanor Hebbard Mills, sought today to run down rumors that the rector may have been carrying securities valued in excess of $10,000 when he was shot. Until this report became current investigators had given little credence to suggestions that the double killing might have been the work of robbers or a blackmail gang.

Although the rector's watch was missing, investigators proceeded on the theory that jealousy and not robbery prompted the double killing.

Sewer Situation Taken Up By Exchangites

An investigation of the needs of the city in regard to a better system of sewers was decided upon by the Exchange club of Portsmouth at its meeting last evening, and a committee consisting of Dr. C. J. Ferguson, D. E. Gardner and George M. Taylor was appointed to secure information and speakers to acquaint the members with the situation. The club took this preliminary step, according to the sentiment developed at the club meeting, to prepare for an enthusiastic support of the movement to provide a complete system of sewers for Portsmouth.

Another matter which came up for discussion was the question of the safety of school children at certain dangerous crossings in the city. A committee consisting of C. L. Hyland and James D. Williams was appointed to discuss with Prof. Appel the steps already taken, and to report back to the club for future action.

The next meeting of the club will be held at the golf grounds on Thursday, October 5, to take the place of the Tuesday evening meeting. The feature of the outing will be the golf games, which are to start promptly at two o'clock. Dinner will be served at the club house in the evening, and all Exchange club members are urged to turn out for the occasion. The committee in charge consists of Ben Selby, George Trece and Eric Ferguson.

The Good

MAXWELL

BEGIN HERE TODAY

The reformed crackman, MICHAEL LANYARD, known to the police as the LONE WOLF, is attempting to recover the stolen jewels of EVE DE MONTALAIS, the woman he loves.

LANYARD, who met Eve in southern France, where he rescued her from robbers, at the hands of the brutal Parisian Apache,

DUPONT, believes that the jewels were stolen by a motoring party consisting of the American,

WHITAKER MONK, his secretary, PHINUIT, the latter's brother, JULES, and the COUNT and COUNTESS DE LORGNES.

De Lorgnes is murdered by Dupont. Later, in Paris, Lanyard finds the countess, learns that her real name is LIANE DELORME, and enters her house to discover the jewels. He finds her being threatened to death by Dupont.

GO ON WITH THE STORY (Continued From Our Last Issue)

Lanyard sat up and took intelligent notice of the room. Phinuit chuckled, and consulted Monk in the tone of one reasonable man to his peer.

"It's plain to be seen he wants those jewels—means to have 'em. Do you know any way we can keep them from him?"

Monk moved his head slowly from side to side: "None."

"Then you agree with me, it would save us all a heap of trouble to let him have them without any more stalling?"

Monk quietly opened a false door in a pedestal of his desk. Lanyard could hear the spinning of a combination manipulated by Monk's long and bony fingers. And presently he saw Monk straighten up with a sizable steel dispatch-box in his hands, place this upon the desk, and unlock it with a key on his pocket ring.

"There," he announced with an easy gesture.

Lanyard rose and stood over the desk, investigating the contents of the dispatch-box. The collection of magnificent stones seemed to tally accurately with his mental memorandum of the description furnished by Eve de Montalais.

"This seems to be right," he said quietly, and closed the box. The automatic lock snapped fast.

"Now what do you say, brother dear?"

"Your debt to me is fully discharged, Liane. What is to prevent me from going ashore with these at once?"

"Nothing," said Phinuit, "but your own good sense."

"Ah!" said Lanyard—"ah!"—and looked from face to face.

"Do I understand I am to consider myself your prisoner?"

"Oh, dear, no!" said Captain Monk, inexpressibly pained by such crudity. Consider favorably an invitation to be our honored guest on the voyage to New York?"

Lanyard thought the matter over a little.

"Obviously, it would seem, you have not gone to all this trouble—lured me aboard this yacht—merely to amuse yourselves at my expense and then knock me on the head."

"Absurd!" Liane declared indignantly. "As if I would permit such a thing, who owe you so much?"

"Or look at it this way, monsieur," Monk put in with a courtly gesture: "When one has an adversary whom one respects, one wisely prefers to have him where one can watch him."

More than that, said Liane with her most killing glance for Lanyard, "a dear friend."

But Lanyard was not to be put off by fair words and flattery.

"No," he said gravely; "but there is some deeper motive."

Phinuit unexpectedly gave him an open-faced return.

"There is," he stated frankly.

"Then why not tell me—?"

"All in good time."

With characteristic abruptness, Liane Delorme announced that she was sleepy, it had been for her a most fatiguing day. Captain Monk rang for the stewardess and gallantly escorted the lady to her door.

Lanyard got up with Phinuit to bow her out, but instead of following her suit helped himself to a long whisky and soda.

"I'm afraid you've got a tendency to overestimate the gullibility of people in general," remarked Phinuit. "Why this funny story of yours about wanting to get hold of the Montalais' lost simply to slip it back to its owner?"

Lanyard felt a spasm of anger; constrict his throat. Nevertheless, his courteous smile persisted.

"I presume, Captain Monk, it's not too late to send a note ashore, posted? I don't in the least mind your reading it."

Monk shrugged his brows, found paper, even went so far as to dip the pen for Lanyard.

Lanyard wrote:

"Dear Madame de Montalais:

"I have not forgotten my promise, by my days have been full slave I left the chateau. And even now I must be brief; within an hour I can for America, within a fortnight you may look for telegraphic advice from me, stating that your jewels are in my possession, and when I hope to be able to restore them to you.

"Believe me, dear madame,

"Devotedly your servant,

"Michael Lanyard."

Monk read and in silence passed this communication over to Phinuit, while Lanyard addressed the envelope.

"Quite an order," was Phinuit's verdict, accompanied by a yawn.

Lanyard folded the note, sealed it in the envelope, and affixed a stamp supplied by Monk, who meanwhile rang for a steward.

"Take this ashore and post it at once," he told the man who answered his summons.

"But seriously, Lanyard?" Phinuit protested with a pained expression. . . . We value your respect too much to let you go on thinking we have fallen for that hokum. We know you steered a direct course from London for the Chateau de Montalais."

"Monsieur sees too clearly . . ."

"What were you up to that night, pussyfooting about the chateau at two in the morning?"

"But this is positively uncanny! Monsieur knows everything."

"Why shouldn't I know about that?" Vanity rang in Phinuit's self-conscious chuckle. "Who'd you think laid you out that night?"

"Monsieur is not telling me—"

"I guess I owe you an apology," Phinuit admitted. Hope I didn't jar you too much."

CHAPTER XIX.
The Face in the Dark

IN the early days of the voyage, Lanyard felt confident of outwitting his companions, but was unable to evolve a satisfactory plan to secure the jewels.

Not that he made the mistake of despising these two social malcontents, Phinuit and Jules, that rogue adventurer Monk, that grasping courtesan, Liane Delorme.

Lanyard accounted that quartet uncommonly clever, resourceful, audacious, unscrupulous, and potentially ruthless, utterly callous to compunctions when their interests were jeopardized.

But it was inconceivable that he should fail to outwit and frustrate them, who had the love and faith of Eve de Montalais to honor, cherish, and requite.

Trying to put himself in Liane's place, Lanyard believed that he would never have neglected the opportunity to steal away from Paris while he slept and leave him to gnaw his nails in the mortification of defeat. Why she had not done so, why she had permitted Monk and Phinuit to play their comedy of offering him the jewels, passed understanding.

But Lanyard felt assured Liane would not keep him waiting long for enlightenment as to her intentions.

Lanyard spent his hours studying the Sbarbaro and particularly the chief engineer, Mr. Musser, a heavy drinker, untidy about his person and exacting about his engine-room, a veteran of his trade and—It was said—an ancient crony of Monk's.

"This seems to be right," he said quietly, and closed the box. The automatic lock snapped fast.

"Now what do you say, brother dear?"

"Your debt to me is fully discharged, Liane. What is to prevent me from going ashore with these at once?"

"Nothing," said Phinuit, "but your own good sense."

"Ah!" said Lanyard—"ah!"—and looked from face to face.

"Do I understand I am to consider myself your prisoner?"

Lanyard wrote:

"You should know I do," the woman breathed, so low he barely caught the words.

"Think what I owe to you, Michael; and then consider this, that of all men whom I have known you alone have never asked for love."

He gave a quiet laugh. "There is too much humility in my heart."

"No," she said in a dull voice—"but you despise me. Do not deny it." She shifted impatiently in her chair.

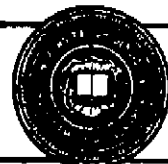

By Their Fruits Ye Shall Know Them

The most noteworthy thing about Ohio Wesleyan University is its output of men and women for practical leadership in the various departments of human activity.

"By their fruits ye shall know them" is a standard of measurement which comes to us upon the highest authority. Adjudged by this standard, the old college at Delaware stands in the very first rank. Her ideals have gone out through all the earth and her men and women to the end of the world.

Her sons and daughters have won the highest distinction in the classics, in science, in philosophy, in literature, in the various professions, in business, in statesmanship, in the Christian ministry and in all forms of social, philanthropic and missionary service.

"But one imagines nobody can escape his fate."

"Men such as you, rare as you are, know how to cheat destiny; but women never. It is my fate to have learned too late to love you, Michael."

"Ah, Liane, Liane!"

"But you hold me in too much contempt to be willing to recognize the truth."

"On the contrary, I admire you extremely, I think you are an incomparable actress."

"You see!" She offered a despairing gesture to the stars. "It is not true what I say? I lay bare my heart to him, and he tells me that I act!"

"But my dear girl! surely you do not expect me to think otherwise?"

"I was a fool to expect anything from you," she returned bitterly—"you know too much about me."

Divided between annoyances and distaste, he was silent. And all at once she threw herself half across the joined arms of their chairs, catching his shoulders with her hands, so that her half-clothed body rested on his bosom, and its scented warmth assailed his senses with the seduction whose power she knew so well.

"Mothers All Over the World Should Be Told About Sykes Comfort Powder," says Nurse Fry

Independence, Mo.—"I wish I could tell mothers all over the world about Sykes Comfort Powder. I could write all day of the wonderful results I have had using it on children. I have proved over and over again it is the only powder that will heal and prevent chafing, scalding, rashes, skin irritations and soreness, and the little baby whose picture I am sending you has always been entirely free from such troubles by its use."

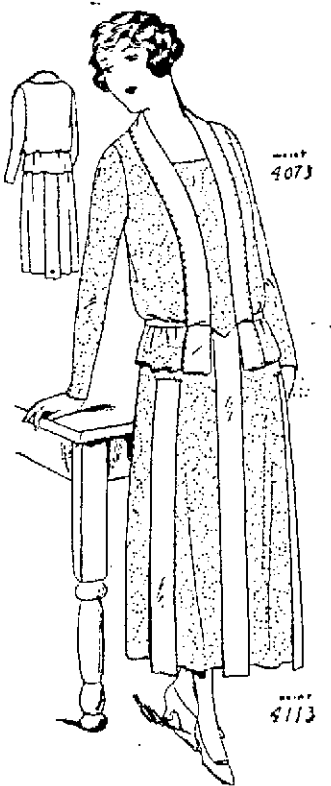

—Laura M. Fry, Independence, Mo.

The reason Sykes Comfort Powder is so successful in such cases is because it contains six healing, antiseptic ingredients not found in ordinary talcums. Physicians, mothers and nurses call it "A Healing Wonder."

Dear Miss Wise—I think I am the husband of the woman who wrote you the other evening that I would not take her any place, and that she had to stay at home every night and wait her thumbs. You're mighty right, I don't take her any place, and I never will until she learns to be herself. Dolly, she has bobbed hair, and she curls it up until she looks like a frizzly chicken, then she puts her face until she looks like a clown, then she rolls her eyes like a sick calf, and expects me to take her out like that. I tell you I am ashamed of her. She flirts with everything she sees. She even looks at windows and flirts with herself. Can you blame me for sitting at home every night? When she learns how to behave herself and dress like an ordinary girl, I'll be ficked to death to take her everywhere there is to go. Now don't tell me I should have known how she dressed before I married her, and not quarrel about it now. Well she did not dress like that before I married her. She just got those crazy notions into her head during the past six months, and I can't get them out.

DISGUSTED HUSBY.

As a rule a woman does not like to have a man dictate to her what she shall and shall not wear. If you fuss about her clothes she probably wears them just for spite. Would advise you not to pay any attention to what she wears for awhile and maybe she will wake up and not decorate herself like a clown. You just imagine everyone is looking at her. So many girls dress that way that they don't pay any attention to them.

Dear Dolly—I would like to know the name of the highest mountain in

THE FACE IN THE MIRROR

Your face, does it wear the contented expression of good health, or are the features drawn and pallid? In the latter case, your story is read by all who see you, and what woman of spirit wants to be pitied for her physical condition? There is a way to get the nervous, tired lines out of your face and the slump out of your body. The use of that standard remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, will strengthen the nerves and tone up the system to resist that excessive fatigue.—Advertisement.

Molded Salmon With Peas

BY BERTIE E. SHAPLEIGH
Of Columbia University

1 pound of salmon, freed from few grubs pepper skin and bones 1 1/2 cups thin cream or top milk
1/2 teaspoon salt 2 eggs. Slight grating of nutmeg

P LCT salmon, after removing skin and bones, through the meat chopper. To this add seasonings, eggs slightly beaten and cream. Turn into a buttered mold, set mold in a pan of water and bake until firm, about 20 minutes. Remove from mold and serve with one cup cream sauce to which has been added one cup cooked peas.

If this is baked in a border mold it is pretty to serve the peas in center and sauce around the fish.

Adventures Of The Twins

BY OLIVE ROBERTS DARTON

TWELVE TOES, the Sorcerer, was furious when Light Fingers returned without the Fairy Queen's automobile. Just furious!

My how he did storm up and down with rage and stamp his foot and tear his hair and bite his nails and gnash his teeth!

Poor Light Fingers, the bad little fairy who worked for him, didn't know where to look. He had done the best he could.

It wasn't his fault that, just at the very minute he was going to scatter the larks on the road in front of the magic automobile that Nancy and Nick were taking to the Fairy Queen, someone grabbed him by the collar and stopped him.

"I'll try again," he said when Twelve Toes got over his rage.

"Very well," said the Sorcerer. "I'll whistle for Comet-Legs to come and give us some good advice."

"So he put two fingers in his mouth and whistled like a fire whistle, and pretty soon there was a whizzing in the air.

Comet-Legs appeared, his crooked legs wrapped around the star he always rode.

He tied his star to the top of a tree and climbed down.

"What's wrong?" he asked when he had shaken hands with Twelve Toes, the Sorcerer, and Light Fingers, the bad little fairy. "What can I do for you?"

Twelve Toes answered: "Light Fingers here stole the Fairy Queen's automobile for me, and then the Twins, Nancy and Nick, got it back. I sent Light Fingers back for it by way of a magic bean-stalk, but the apple-free fairy caught him and stopped him. Now we don't know what to do. Can you help us?"

"Sure!" nodded Comet-Legs, positively. "I've got an idea already."

RHEUMATISM

A Remarkable Home Treatment Given by One Who Had It

In the year of 1881 I was attacked by Muscular and Sub-Acute Rheumatism, suffered as only those who are thus afflicted can know for over three years. I tried nearly every remedy, but such relief as I obtained was only given by the use of a treatment that cured me completely and such a painful condition has never returned. I am now 65 years old, and the results were the same as in my own case.

I want every sufferer from any form of muscular and sub-acute (swelling at the joints) rheumatism, to try the great value of my improved "Home Treatment" for its remarkable healing power.

Don't send a cent; simply mail your name and address, and I will send it free to try. After you have used it, and it has proven itself to be that long-looked-for means of getting rid of such forms of rheumatism, you may send the price of it, One Dollar, but understand I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. I can't tell you why suffer any longer, when relief is thus offered you free. Don't delay. Write today.

ASHLAND HAS $300,000 FIRE

Fire, which broke out in the Van Hoose-Adams company, dealers in feed, grain and flour at Fourteenth street and Greenup avenue, Ashland, Ky., early Wednesday morning, completely destroyed their three-story brick building and its contents.

Before the flames could be checked they communicated to Crump and Field's big wholesale grocery, which adjoined the Van Hoose-Adams building.

The top floor of this building was gutted and the firm's stock was virtually ruined by the large volume of water thrown on it.

The Van Hoose-Adams company places its loss at $100,000, and Crump and Field, who buy one of the largest wholesale groceries in this section, place their loss at $200,000. Both firms have their losses fully covered by insurance and it was stated in Ashland today that they will establish temporary headquarters at once.

Officers Hutchison and Barney, while making their rounds in Ashland early this morning, discovered the fire, which originated in the rear of the Van Hoose-Adams building and probably was caused by spontaneous combustion.

Nationalist Army Concentrating
CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 27.—(By the Associated Press)—While the Anatolian cabinet sitting at Smyrna is completing its reply to the allied note, the nationalist army continues its concentration of troops on the Istanbul and Chankir lines. Mustafa Kemal Pasha now has 1,100 men in Kumi Kaleli, at the mouth of the Dardanelles; 5,000 at Dramati, fifty miles southeast of Chankir, 10,000 in the intervening Sanjak of Kocaeli and considerable forces in the other areas.

The nationalist leader expects these concentrations to be completed by September 30, which date coincides with the time set for the final evacuation of refugees from Smyrna.

Will Not Protect Christians
It is considered significant here that General Nureddin Pasha, military governor of Smyrna, has declared he cannot guarantee the lives of the Christians in Smyrna after that date. This is taken to mean that the Kemalists want to clear decks for action in the event the allies reject their reply.

The British are no less busy strengthening their lines and checking every move made by the nationalists. Further arrivals of military and naval units are daily augmenting their forces and intensifying Mustafa Kemal's chances of successfully attacking the straits.

Sea of Marmora Full of Ships
The Sea of Marmora and the Bosphorus are dotted with the most modern war craft, the concentration rivaling that of the fateful days of the Gallipoli campaign.

The British fleet now includes six dreadnoughts, seven battle cruisers, twenty destroyers and several submarines and giant aircraft carriers. The assembly of this great armada and the increase in the British land forces to upwards of 30,000 men, have quieted the frayed nerves of the anxious Christian people of the capital.

Wireless Prevented Clash
CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 27.—(By the Associated Press)—A wireless message sent to Chankir when the Turkish nationalists occupied Kocaeli and other points in the neutral zone was all that prevented an outbreak of hostilities between the British and Turks, it is learned.

Colonel Shuttleworth, commanding the British forces in Chankir, was about to open fire on the advancing Kemalists cavalry squadrons when he received an urgent radio from Brigadier General Harington in Constantinople instructing him to suspend the attack until all peaceful measures were exhausted.

In consequence a British officer was sent to the Kemalists lines under a white flag to inform the nationalist commander that unless he retreated

Stricken By Ptomaine Poisoning

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 27.—Mrs. Ella Heddlston, wife of Russell C. Her husband stated Wednesday that no improvement had yet taken in his wife's condition. Mr. Heddlston is a candidate for governor of the Ohio Kiwanis. Harry Webb, Kiwanian of Javenna and W. H. Phillips, of Columbiana county, and Kiwanis delegates from Lisbon, Ohio, stated that their wives, too, were ill last night, but were both well again Wednesday.

"Sad Blow" For Ohio G. O. P. Say Democrats

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 27.—(By the Associated Press)—State Democratic leaders view the announcement from Washington that the scrapping of naval armaments has been halted and further work postponed indefinitely as a "sad blow for Ohio Republican leaders," a statement issued from state Democratic headquarters today said.

"It is recalled," the statement said, "that Colonel Carmi A. Thompson told Ohio men and women scores of times concerning the great accomplishments for world peace that resulted from the disarmament conference. Now the work of the conference itself is scrapped and the power pact has come to naught."

"One more excuse of the Harding-Thompson group has been shattered. It admits failure in foreign affairs, as it already has confessed that the best it can do at home is Newberry, 90 cent wheat, unemployment, a rubber tariff and hard times. The last prop is gone."

"By comparison the Davis administration, with all its scandals, is almost an asset."

"Failure of other parties to the power pact to reduce armaments as agreed and the near east war are factors responsible for the situation. Failure of France and Italy to ratify the terms of the Washington conference also added to the distrust of the administration and while a few battleships of obsolete type have been dismantled, work of reconstruction is being rushed on others."

"With the announcement that England may be compelled to withdraw from the disarmament agreement and that no move has been made by the British for the reduction of his fleet, the treaty, hailed as an assurance of world peace has become merely a scrap of paper."

Early Adoption Of Measure Prohibiting Strikes Forecast By Root In Addressing G. O. P.

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 27.—Early adoption by the Republican congress of law at once prohibiting strikes which "cut off the supply of food or service necessary to the life of the community" and at the same time protecting the workman's liberty, was predicted by Elihu Root, temporary chairman, in his address before the Republican state convention today.

"Touching on the recent rail and coal strikes Mr. Root said: "We are all employers and laborers and the general public is apt to be impatient about strikes. So long as strikes were a contest between labor and employers to secure for labor its fair share of the new wealth which has come to mankind through invention and discovery and application of science and the art of organization, the sympathies of the American public were with labor. When a strike becomes an attempt to coerce the public into taking action by cutting off the supply of food or service necessary to the life of the community, I am sure that public feeling goes the other way."

"I think that in this country we're gradually approaching the point where the law of the land will provide for distinguishing between the two kinds of strikes and protecting the public against compulsion by threat of peril to life or of destruction to the machinery of civilization and at the same time protect the workman's liberty to refuse to work and the workman's liberty to work. If we cannot come to that point then the American government of all the people by all the people and for all the people will fail and a few will rule the many. Perhaps we are approaching that point as rapidly as is possible, and wise to attempt."

"Declaring that the five things most needed when President Harding took office were an ending of the "automatic method of government consented to for the purpose of carrying on the war, abolition of the immensely extravagant scale of expenditure established during the war, restoration of normal industry of feverish excitement to the war" Mr. Root asserted. The Harding administration had accomplished all these.

Every Seat Sold At Today's Performance Of The Pageant

Hundreds Turned Away;
Big Sale For Thursday;
Better Get Tickets Early;
Pageant Unqualified Success

PAGEANT BEGINS AT 1:45

Special attention is called to the fact that the Pageant started fifteen minutes earlier today or promptly at 1:45 o'clock P. M.

Long before the second performance of the Pageant started promptly at 1:45 this afternoon every seat was sold and hundreds of people were turned away.

The officials estimated more than 1,000 failed to gain admission on account of waiting till the last minute to buy their tickets.

There is a big advance sale for the last performance Thursday and President Albert Martin stated today that probably every one of the 4,200 seats would be sold before noon Thursday.

If you intend to witness this epochal spectacle, get your seats early at the Chamber of Commerce.

More than 12,000 people will witness the three performances of the Pageant, which is an unqualified success and one of the most picturesque affairs of the kind ever staged in this section.

With close to 4,000 citizens and visitors in the stands, Portsmouth's first Pageant of Progress, a most interesting spectacle that vividly recalled many colorful events of long ago, and showed the steady, onward progress of the River City from the time of the Indians until after the Post-Bellum Days of 1872-1886, was successfully presented Tuesday afternoon by more than 1000 performers. That the crowd appreciated the efforts of the hundreds of performers was shown by the loud outbursts of applause that followed the presentation of each scene or part of a scene.

It would have been hard to find a more appropriate setting for the staging of such a wonderful story of the building of Portsmouth. The stage was the bank of the Ohio river, with the beautiful Ohio river and the towering Kentucky hills in the background as in the days of yore, when the early settlers braved the perils of the West to find new homes in these fertile valleys. The Pageant is a gigantic panorama that was presented again this afternoon and will be given for a third and last time Thursday afternoon.

The advance sale of seats for both days was big, but many good seats were left for the last minute buyers.

One of the most interesting and beautiful scenes was the closing scene when the stage was filled with performers. With their varied colored costumes they presented a sight most pleasing to the eye and one which would have been still more beautiful had it been staged before partial darkness settled over the grounds. Today the slowly moving processions speeded up and time was made up on other scenes so that the entire Pageant could be given before dark.

The Pageant opens with one hundred and fifty men and women from all the church choirs in the city, all vested, proceeding in procession from the northeast entrance to the grounds to the choir loft at the west side of the grounds. "Lead On, O King Eternal," a most appropriate selection, was rendered by the choir, whose music was re-echoed from the hills across the river.

To open the Pageant, four trumpeters take their positions on the river bank and sound forth the call "At tention!" They also announce the starting and close of each episode and the interludes. The trumpeters are Katherine Welch, Rena Reinicker, Marjorie Sly and Mildred Warman.

Following the opening words of the chronicler, the Rev. E. A. Powell, pastor of All Saints' Episcopal Church, came the first episode, that of the French and Indian period of 1740.

The territory of the Ohio Valley is claimed by a detachment of French troops under Celeron (H. B. Eccles), Indians, English traders, priests and French soldiers form the characters of this first episode.

EPISODE 1 French-Indian, 1749 (Historical Note)

This episode presents one incident of the struggle of the French and English for the possession of North America. Celeron de Blenville, acting on orders from Marquis Gallissiere, Governor General of Canada, formally takes possession of the Scioto River and its Valley in the name of Louis XV, King of France, and warns the English to vacate all lands held by the French.

Indian Chief—William Hazelbeck.

The heralds announce the first interlude—in the interludes the dancing was carefully and beautifully executed.

Interlude 1 Adventure And Forest

This dance of green clad dryads, including 25 girls, led by the symbolic figure of Adventure, typifies the days when French voyagers and English adventurers ranged the primal woods.

Music

Adventure—Ruth Nutter.
"Pioneers and Indians 1779-96" is the period portrayed by the next episode.

The scene opens following the chronicler's explanation by a peaceful Indian powwow, which is interrupted by the arrival of trappers who are captured, and, after being made to run the gauntlet, are about to be burned at the stake, when reinforcements save them and the hardy pioneers come into possession of the fertile valley.

The little daughter of Lester Finney, costumed as an Indian, impersonated, brought laughter and applause when she joined the romantic dance of the Indians. The little miss is only three years old and carried off her part like a veteran.

E. E. Seig, the Indian messenger, brings news of the coming of the pioneers, and brought consternation to the Indian village.

Pioneers then take possession of the valley.

Characters in the episode are about 30 men, women and children dressed as pioneers and Indians.

Episode 2 Pioneers And Indians, 1790-96 (Historical Note)

The Shawnees, in possession of the land around the mouth of the Scioto, fiercely resist attempted encroachments of the Pioneers.

The Greenfield Treaty compels the recession of the Shawnees to the North part of the present state of Ohio.

The recession of the Indians is followed immediately by the coming of the Pioneers.

Here occurred the only serious "bitch" in the program, when horses drawing a prairie schooner acted up and threatened to run away. A fireman and a guardsman managed to quiet the animals.

Then came the second interlude, the dance of romance and flowers, one of the most appreciated parts of the Pageant.

Interlude 2 Romance And Flowers

The symbolic figure of Romance leads the dance of the Flowers up on the bank where they blossom time out of mind.

Music

Butterfly Ballet (Bertha Metzler).
Romance—Sarah Louise Walker, Mildred Brown.

The flowers included:

Single Rose, Jounquill, Morning Glory, Corn Flower, White Lily, Violet, Brown Eyed Susan, Daisy, Forget-Me-Not, Double Rose, Poppy, Tulip, Pansy, Hollyhock, Yellow Lily.

The little girls in their brilliant tissue paper costumes of color representing the flowers made a beautiful picture and their dance drew rounds of applause from the spectators.

Then in the second scene is shown the founding of Portsmouth with Henry Massie, founder of Portsmouth buying lands and laying out the city.

The Log Cabin, Hard Cider, 1840 campaign, a stirring scene of early days, was the next episode.

The town band with the bass drummer "tippy" from hard cider, brought down the grand stands.

Robert Hood (E. C. Hood) a Democrat, was forcibly ejected from the meeting when he tried to sing a Democratic song.

The interlude of steel, the dance in which the figure of "Industry" leads the dance of steel when 125 little girls form the "Wheel of Progress," was a spectacular and delightful presentation.

They wore steel grey dresses with the leading dancers in red forming the hub of the wheel. The dancers in red represented Industry.

Industry And Steel

Portsmouth's important industry has been the manufacture of iron and steel.

Music—Hall of the Mountain King (From Peer Gynt Suite).

With the opening of the Civil War episode down the river floats a flatboat, with people singing. They are slaves on their way to be sold.

The singing of "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," by the colored chorus, under the direction of W. E. Haley, was one of the most beautiful numbers of the Pageant.

Answering this chorus came the songs from the boat chorus, producing the most delightful musical effects. Garrett Starks led the singing on the flatboat.

But at Lincoln's call, the city sends her quota of men to the front.

Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation is solemnly read.

Morgan in his spectacular raid, while he passed in reality to the north of Portsmouth, is introduced for dramatic effect, with his chivalrous raiders.

As the boys came home from the war, Portsmouth, as was the whole country, is stunned by the news of the murder of Lincoln.

The reading of the Emancipation Proclamation by the Rev. Norman W. Brown, pastor of the Allen Chapel A. M. E. Church, was slately in dignity and impressed again upon the great audience the significance of the act of the martyred Lincoln.

Some older citizens remember "Morgan's Raid." With all the excitement of that memorable occasion the actors of the Pageant portrayed this time of panic.

Full of pathos was the scene where the announcement of the assassination of the great Lincoln was made.

The great crowd of actors knelt in prayer while the chorus sang the last verse of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," the answering chorus coming from across the field by the colored chorus.

The bugler sounded taps.

"Flood and Rising Waters," the subject of this interlude was beautifully costumed and the lead dance well taken by Relda Cunningham.

The many girls who took part wore dresses of green and white.

Again was reacted in the fourth episode, the "Biggs House Ball".

John Lynn, as A. M. McFarland, presented George W. Freund, as Wm. Biggs, a gold headed cane, Mr. Biggs, a citizen of Greenup, was the owner of the Biggs House when it opened.

Portsmouth slips pleasantly into pleasant and easy going ways.

The Biggs House Ball commemorates the opening of what was Portsmouth's chief hostelry.

The Monumental Fair serves to reward suitably all sorts of virtues, and to raise funds for the erection of the Soldiers' Monument.

The Tenth Annual Reunion of the Society of the Army of West Virginia revives patriotism and brings many famous people to Portsmouth.

Men's Style Show Success

The sidewalk in front of the Wolff clothing store on Chilliworth street was crowded to the curbstone last evening with a throng of interested people who were eager to see Portsmouth's first masculine Style Show. The show windows were artistically decorated and were a proper setting for the event which attracted a considerable amount of comment from the spectators.

A young man, who was well groomed, promenade before the audience on a glass enclosed stage, displaying the latest creations in the men's fashion world, including waistcoats, smoking jackets, sweaters, top coats, rain coats, hats and caps and other accessories.

The Style Show will be repeated tonight and Thursday, commencing at seven o'clock and lasting until nine.

TWO HURT IN MOTORCYCLE ACCIDENT

HAMDEN, Sept. 27.—Chas. Waller was seriously injured when thrown from a side car of a motorcycle of which his son, Howard, was driving at McArthur Monday afternoon. In trying to get around an automobile he struck the curb, throwing his father out, breaking his right leg below the knee, mashing his nose and it is thought his skull is fractured. Howard was only slightly injured. Accident was near Martin-Jill's Garage. Mr. Waller was taken to a Columbus hospital.

EH! YOU BETTOR S, PIPE THIS ONE

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Stewards at the Aqueduct track today were investigating a reported attempt to disable a horse entered in the feature race of yesterday's card by stuffing a sponge in one of the animal's nostrils.

The horse, Tuffet, regarded as a favorite in the Stony Brook selling stakes until the tampering was discovered, was allowed to run after the sponge had been removed but finished sixth in a field of seven starters.

The incident is said to be the fourth of a similar nature to occur this season on metropolitan tracks.

FIRST CHURCH IS REDECORATED

The coming Sunday gives promise of being a long to be remembered day for the people of the First Presbyterian church.

Rev. Wm. H. Gleason has recovered splendidly from his recent operation and will preach morning and evening. Though his pastorate in this city up to the present has been short, he is fast gaining a city-wide reputation as a speaker of unusual ability. With Rally Day in the church it is certain he will be welcomed back by capacity audiences.

An attractive feature for Sunday, and continuing in the future will be music by a double quartette. Under the capable and enthusiastic direction of Mrs. J. M. Stockham, worth while and enjoyable programs of the highest degree are assured. The double quartette will be composed of Mrs. R. C. Lynn, Miss Myrtle Zeigler, Mrs. Chas. Storck, Mrs. O. J. Deltzer, Mr. Tolmsage Edwards, Mr. W. H. Schwartz, Mr. Edwin Lodwick and Mr. Fred Klingman.

Everyone is anxiously awaiting the opportunity of worshipping in the redecorated church. Entirely refurnished in lighter tones, with massive basket lamps and hardwood floors, the change is beautiful and must be seen to be appreciated.

With the return of worship to the church building so appealing now, special music and once more the presence of the pastor, Rally Day holds forth great promise.

The Sunday School together with others in the city will also hold their fall "Rally Day." For the last couple Sundays attendance has been at the 400 mark — Sunday with everyone working it promises to get a big boost for the day and a substantial one for the winter. There is evidence of plenty of "pep" now — and we will be watching the thermometer to see how high it goes Sunday morning.

At six o'clock Sunday evening in line with the others the Christian Endeavor will have a rally meeting, observing Flower Day. With so much of interest it will be a big day at the First Presbyterian.

C. & O. Shopmen Back To Work At Russell

Relative to the recent settlement of the shopmen's strike on the C. and O. the Irononian said yesterday: The disastrous nation wide strike of railway shopmen, disastrous alike to both roads and employees, effected, ended so far as this community is concerned at 11:00 o'clock last night when the advance guard of the strikers returned to their posts at Russell on the second trick.

The first group to return under the settlement effected with C. and O. officials at Richmond on the basis of the Willard-Warfield-Jewell pact arrived at in Chicago, consisted of 21 machinists and their helpers, thirty-three pipefitters and helpers and six boiler makers and helpers. Thirty-five car repairers will return this morning.

On the first three tricks to go on duty at eight hour intervals including that which started at 11:00 o'clock last night, 124 mechanics will return to work. Other groups will follow daily until all men have been reinstated, the process not to consume over 80 days.

C. P. Holler, general chairman of the Blacksmiths on the C. and O. men who had been scheduled to arrive Monday to conduct the local negotiations for the men's return, was delayed in arriving and after the men met at 9:00 a. m. the shop federation committee went into conference with W. S. Butler, operating official, concerning the men's return.

In the afternoon Mr. Holler arrived and at a meeting in the basement of the M. E. church which was attended by practically all of the strikers, he explained the settlement.

It was agreed by the company, Mr. Holler said, that all men would be returned to their former positions in the order of their seniority. Thus the oldest men were returned to work last shift on the second trick, the first shift to go on duty following the local settlement. The representative of the men explained the developments in the strike from its inception to the settlement. No effort was made to conceal the fact that so far as all practical purposes are concerned the strike failed of its object to have set aside the drastic wage cut ordered by the labor board which went into effect July 1st, the date the strike started.

The shopmen's supposed defection from the clerks in making a separate settlement was fully explained by Mr. Holler. He stated that when it was determined to strike, leaders of twelve crafts including President Fitzgerald of the clerks' brotherhood, signed an agreement to call a national strike. Later he said President Fitzgerald rescinded his actions stating such action was impossible and afterward authorized strikers on individual roads where a settlement could not be reached.

The question of seniority of the returned strikers over men who remained at work and those employed since the strike is left to a commission composed of six shopmen and six officials which is to be formed on each road following the signing of separate settlements. Return of all strikers so far as the C. and O. is concerned however, was said to have been absolutely guaranteed.

RUNAWAY LADS CAUGHT AT OAK HILL

OAK HILL, Sept. 27.—Two young lads from Ironon giving the names of John Wood and Fred Lozier and their ages 11 and 13 years, dropped into town, and being without funds, looked up Marshal Tom D. Jones and asked for something to eat and a night's lodging. Marshal Jones gave them their supper and allowed them to spend the night in the city prison. He gave them their breakfast and started them for home. Instead of taking the pike as they were told to do, they hopped a freight and were put off at Monroe by one of the train men. Constable Jenkins took them in charge and returned them to Oak Hill, where they remained in jail until relatives came after them. According to their story they had intended to go to Summit, where the father of one of the boys is working. Through a mistake they boarded an N. & W. freight instead of a B. & O. and landed in Chilliworth. From there they came to Oak Hill.

To Plan For Institutes

On Friday, September 29, F. L. Allen, superior of Farmer's Institutes, will meet the farmers of the various institutes which will be held throughout the county during this fall and winter. The conference will be held at ten o'clock Friday morning at the office of the Solon County Farm Bureau, 714 Fifth street.

At this meeting plans will be formulated for the conduct of the institutes. It is Mr. Allen's idea that these institutes should fit in with the Community Farm Bureau plan of work. In meeting with the officers he believes that he can get an insight into the greatest needs of each particular community.

Institutes which will be held this year are as follows:
Harrison township, Nov. 17 and 18. President, S. D. Eckhardt. Secretary, G. A. Shumway. Lady Correspondent, Mrs. Charles Helt.

BLOTCHES

BLACKHEADS are Embarrassing

Oh! how can I get rid of them and enjoy the glory of a clear skin?
Don't despair! S. S. S. will lead you into a world you probably have never known before—a world of joy, where strong light and love are welcome, where spotted-faced embarrassment is no more!
S. S. S. makes the blood rich and pure, and when your blood is freed of impurities, your stubborn blotches, pimples, blackheads, acne, rash, itchy and skin eruptions are bound to disappear.
Miss Ethel Rose, 422 E. Water St., Patented Post, N. Y., writes: "I was troubled with pimples on my face, neck and chest. I was advised to take S. S. S. I found it as claimed, as it certainly purified my system and my complexion is now clear."

S.S.S. makes you feel like yourself again

There were 5,696 fires in Ohio in 1921, and the loss was $11,802,410. This is 139 less fires than in 1920 and a saving of $2,045,504 over the loss of the previous year. FIRE PREVENTION EDUCATION was the cause of the decrease in the number of fires and in the loss.

There were 2,455 dwelling house fires in 1921, with a loss of $1,162,806. This is 338 less fires than in the same class of buildings the previous year, and a saving of $785,000. FIRE PREVENTION EDUCATION seems to have reached into the home as well as the factory.

The major causes of home fires, last year, were: sparks from chimneys falling on shingles or wooden roofs, 453; defective flues, 308; carelessness with matches, 210; children and matches, 97; smokers' carelessness, 87; electric wire, 84; gas explosions, 84; spontaneous combustion (rags, mops, etc.) 50; gasoline explosions, 52; kerosene explosions, 72; rubber hose gas connections, 13; flexible gas brackets, 24; electric frons, 21; and lightning on unrodded buildings, 55. Defective store pipes and grates, children playing with fire, candles, Christmas trees, fireworks, family wastings catching from stoves, etc., were also fire causes; 25 fires were caused by grease catching fire from the kitchen stove.

There were 74 more apartment fires in 1921 than 1920, and $92,700 more loss. This can be set down to housing conditions and the fact that some people are not so careful of the property of others as they are of their own. Matches, electric wires, smokers' carelessness, spontaneous combustion and gas explosions were the major causes of the losses.

In spite of the greater number of automobiles in use, there were but 41 more fires caused by autos in 1921 than the year previous, and the loss was but $8,225 more.

Twenty-nine school houses had fires, as against 35 in 1920. Causes of school house fires were: hot ashes against wood, 3; defective flues, 5; bad wiring, 4; gas explosion, 1; incendiary, 4; coal oil stove explosion, 1; lightning (unrodded), 1; sparks from chimney on flammable roof, 3; spontaneous combustion, 2; undetermined, 3; woodwork from furnace, 1; from stove, 1. The greater per cent of these fires came from the heating and lighting systems.

There were 32 church fires in 1921, four less than in 1920. The loss was $63,752, against $206,244, the year before.

Flat fires showed an increase of eight in number (8) and $16,826. Housing conditions and better furnishings probably account for this.

Denison Football Prospects Good

GRANVILLE, O., Sept. 27.—With thirty-four men to pick and choose from, Coach Livingston of Denison University is confident this year's football team at the Granville school will make a strong bid for high honors in the Ohio Conference.

There is considerable new material from last year's incoming class, in addition to the nucleus of letter men. The most promising of the former team to be Allen of Newark, Bridge of Cambridge, McConaughy and Riley of Dayton Steel high, Stockin of Dayton Moraine, and Knicker of Deane Academy. Old men back include Captain "Dick" Willis, all-Ohio tackle; Pete, his brother, star quarter last year, and Calhoun, who gained state-wide recognition as center. There seems to be an abundance of material for most of the positions. Jefferson, McConaughy, Lyne and Allen are showing form worthy of note for jobs as ends. Calhoun would look to be unquestionable choice for starting plays, with Riley of Dayton Steel not far behind.

Captain Willis is the high light in the guard and tackle material with good company in the form of Henderson, McLain and Steadman of last year, and Bridge, playing his first game for the varsity. Haulley is the only regular of last year at half, with Rogers and Kinlock, new men, going strong for his running partner.

Livingston's staff has been increased by the addition of Bill More, Ed Jenkins, both all-Ohio men, and famous in former Big Red contests. MacMahon, a former varsity man, is still on the job, rounding out the largest and most complete coaching staff ever at Denison.

Denison's schedule is: Sept. 30—Denison vs Duquesne University at Pittsburgh. Oct. 7—Wilmington. Oct. 14—Ohio University at Athens. Oct. 21—Wittenberg. Oct. 28—Miami at Dayton. Nov. 4—Wesley. Nov. 11—Cincinnati at Cincinnati. Nov. 17—Heidelberg at Tiffin. Nov. 25—Ohio Wesleyan.

Keep Your Eye On Home Run Hitters

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Because of the enormous increase in recent seasons of home run hitting, followers of the game expect the coming world's series to develop into a contest of long distance batting which a study of the statistics entirely refutes.

Not that the 1922 struggle may not establish an imposing and new total of four base swats because it may, but if many home runs are hit, it will be a novelty.

The season of 1922 has been the most prolific of home runs of all time, the 1,000 mark being whizzed past by the sluggers of both leagues.

Yet in all the world's series games that have been played only 25 home runs have been made and if the computation is made on the basis of most other world series discussions—beginning in 1905 when the British world series evolved—only 32 circuit clouts have been clipped. And Babe Ruth has made but one of them.

All of the 32 homers have been damaging, however, some of them accounting for games that meant winning a series.

The palm goes to J. Franklin Baker, still with the Yankees, who became known as "Ironhorse" Baker early in this decade when with the Philadelphia Athletics he mauled Matthews and Margard of the Giants.

In the last six world's series the American league teams have made 114 runs, eight of them home runs and the National leaguers have made five home runs out of the 112 runs they have scored.

B. N. Kitchen and J. Ashworth won 4 out of 5 from Heisel and Millison. High man J. Ashworth 20 ringers, 67 points.

10. Ramey and Frank won 4 out of 5 from O'Connor and John Sparks. High man Ramey, 24 ringers and 60 points.

11. Craig and Lawson won 3 out of 5 from Prediger and D. Ashworth. High man Craig 31 ringers, 87 points. Craig proved to be high man with the total of 55 ringers and 150 points.

BABE RUTH SAYS

I see by the papers that Commissioner Landis is receiving many complaints about the umpiring in the major leagues this season.

That some of the American League gesticulators should be more efficient than others goes without saying.

Billy Evans was few and far between and it isn't to be expected that every member of Bain Johnson's staff should be as capable as he. Some of the others are not far behind, however, and it is my peculiar notion that the umpiring in the American League this year is better, on the whole, than at any other time within the span of my major league experience.

Evans has been called the "perfect umpire," and in my opinion he is all of that. He seldom makes a mistake in his judgment on strikes and balls. His calling of plays on the bases is practically 100 per cent perfect, and, in his case, exceptional ability is coupled with splendid tact and a temperament worthy of a diplomat. Unlike some umpires I could make. Evans will acknowledge a mistake when he makes one, but does it in such a way that it does not weaken his hold on the situation or impair the respect in which he is held by the players.

OH HO! BASKETBALL

The first basketball game of the season is planned to come off in two weeks when the Lucasville teams expect to walk off with the honors over Beaver. The lineup of the first and second teams follow:

First Team—Louise Beard, center; Margaret Bernthold and Jennie Miller, forwards; Lena Sampson and Inth Appel, guards.

Second Team—Louise Beard center; Charlotte Widdig and Thelma Odell, forwards; Gladys Jordan and Charlotte Sprigg, guards.

SOUTHWORTH RETURNS TO GAME

Captain Billy Southworth, of the Boston Braves, got back in the lineup in yesterday's conflict with Brooklyn after being out of the game since May due to an injury. While his team lost the combat, Billy cracked out one hit and took care of four chances which came his way.

Local friends of the Columbus boy, who is a favorite here by reason of having started his brilliant diamond career in this city, will be glad to learn that he has recovered sufficiently to get back in harness.

It is said that Southworth has almost entirely recovered from the severe injury which threatened to end his diamond career, and he hopes to be back next season with bells on.

WILL ATTEMPT TO LOWER TRACK RECORD

COLEBURN, O., Sept. 27.—The Arch City 2:10 pace, carrying a purse of $3,000 headed the grand circuit program here today. There were nine starters in this race with Abbeduto ruling the favorite over Henry Direct. Other events on the card include the 2:06 trot for 3 year olds and the 2:12 trot for 3 year olds.

An added feature to today's program was Nedda's attempt to lower the track record here of 1:59 1/4 set by Peter Manning last fall.

ASHWORTH BOSS HORESHOE PITCHER

The special match in horseshoe pitching is now over and all honors go to Sam Ashworth. He won 8 out of 9 games, losing a tough one to Mitchell 21-20. Mitchell made 13 ringers; Ashworth 12 in the game. Ashworth made the most ringers in 1 game ringing 16, closely pressed by Doll and Gerald who ring 15. The players ranked in this order:

Name	Ringers
S. Ashworth	91
Mitchell	90
Higgins	79
Dodge	73
Craig	73
Gerald	71
Doll	66
Hughes	66
Bierley	55
Rheinfrank	53

Making a total of 717 ringers thrown by ten players in 9 games. That will make an average of about 8 ringers per man per game. Some as follows:

Name	Won	Lost
Ashworth	8	1
Higgins	7	2
Mitchell	6	3
Dodge	5	4
Hughes	5	4
Gerald	4	5
Rheinfrank	4	5
Bierley	3	6
Craig	3	6
Doll	1	8

Ashworth will meet Eachus of Galipolis here soon to settle a little dispute as to which is the better pitcher.

RARDEN PLAYERS MAKING GOOD

That two former Rarden Champs, Clyde Kates and "Red" Thomas, are still in harness and performing in old-time style over in Dayton, where they are playing on the same team in a fast church league is evidenced by the fact that they were the bright particular stars in the first of a three game series played last Saturday for the city championship.

Their team, the Hartford U. B.'s, easily annexed the combat by the one-sided score of 16 to 0, the pitching and hitting of Thomas and Kates, the two mainstays of the team, being the distinguishing features of an otherwise uninteresting contest, says the Dayton Journal.

Thomas, not only pitched well, holding the enemy to five hits, but he clipped off four singles while Kates, who is manager of the victors, contributed five hits, including two doubles and a triple.

Reds Are In Third Place

The Cincinnati tribe, by trouncing the Phillies while the Giants were taking the St. Louis Cards down the line, climbed into third place in the National league chase with a six point lead over Riskey's team.

The Moran gang is only ten points behind Pittsburgh and by taking their two remaining games will advance into second place. They will meet the Pirates in the two final battles at Redland field on Saturday and Sunday.

Play In Millbrook Sunday

The N. and W. baseball nine will clash with the Ashland All Stars on Millbrook diamond Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in a benefit game for the striking N. and W. shopmen of this city. The N. and W. nine has a well balanced team and one that will give the Kentuckians a real battle. The N. and W. lineup will be as follows: F. Keyser, cf.; J. Keyser, cf.; Doherty, ss.; Dunham, 1b.; J. Barber, 2b.; C. Cooper, 3b.; Wells, 1f.; Stillwell, c.; Houston and Townsend, p.; B. Cooper, R. Keyser and Bauer, utility.

WAVERLY HI TO TACKLE CHILLICOTHE

WAVERLY, OHIO, Sept. 27.—Coach Titch has his Waverly Hi football squad working hard every evening in preparation for the game with Chillicothe at Mingo Park next Friday. All hands came out of the Ashville game in good shape. The boys will start against Chillicothe Friday full of confidence although expecting a hard game. Coach Titch is trying one or two of the boys in new positions this week, but if there is any change in the lineup Friday it will not be known until game time. Waverly still has a few open dates in their schedule. High schools wishing to arrange a game with Waverly should write to Business Manager John Gregg. Following is the schedule:

GIANTS TROUNCE THE FAST FADING CARDINALS; REDS ROMP OVER THE LOWLY PHILLIES

Yanks Need
One More
Game

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Free from pennant worries after one of the most strenuous campaigns in their career, the New York Giants, 1922 National League champions, wound up the battle against the Western opposition by taking the final game of the series from the St. Louis Cardinals 6-3, behind Artie Nehf's steady twirling.

It was the third defeat in four games for the team which threatened the Giants' supremacy for a large share of the season and showed the Cardinals back to fourth place while Cincinnati, trouncing Philadelphia 15 to 8 climbed to third position.

Indication that Nehf has practically recovered from the effects of a foot injury which checked his effectiveness earlier in the season, was regarded as an important factor in the Giants' world series chances. The southpaw held the heavy hitting Cardinals scoreless in all but two innings and exhibited perfect control.

Nehf, although beaten twice by Waite Hoyt of the Yankees in last year's series, twirled brilliantly both times and in his third start turned in the deciding victory by outpitching the "Boy Wonder" in the eighth game, 1 to 0.

The Giants play a double header today with Philadelphia at the Polo Grounds and McGraw plans to call on his reserve forces after giving the regulars a brief workout.

The Yankees, within a game of clinching the American league title, hope to settle the race beyond all doubt by winning from Boston tomorrow in the first of a three game series with the Red Sox. They hold a lead of three and a half games over the St. Louis Browns and with but four more contests to play, need only a single victory to eliminate the mathematical uncertainty yet existing.

Jazz Vance achieved his eighteenth victory of the season while Brooklyn pounded two Boston twirlers to win, 12 to 5, in the only other major league games played yesterday.

Nine home runs in three games played brought the season's total for both leagues to 1,028 close to 100 more than last year's record crop of 937 circuit blows.

Series Even

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Sept. 27.—Winning Tuesday's game 11 to 7, New Haven evened the series with the Baltimore Orioles for the minor league championship of the east by winning today's game 11 to 7. Errors played a big part in the victory of the Eastern League champions, although the winners forced the issue at all times. Score:

Siki Third To Gain Pugilistic Fame

Siki

Siki, who so easily disposed of one Georges Carpentier, is the third "foreigner" to gain pugilistic fame during the present year. First came Luis Angel Firpo, an Argentinian giant. In New York and New Jersey he met only what is termed in sporting parlance "trial horses," but his superiority in these bouts was so marked that leading fight experts predicted for him a great future in the realm of the squared circle.

They declared Firpo needed only careful tutoring in the finer points of the game of hit, stop and get away to place him among the first and foremost.

Then from the Philippines came a mite of a man called Pancho Villa. He tipped the scales at 110 pounds. Before many fortnights had passed, he had pounded his small self through a goodly part of the bantam-weight class and then captured the American flyweight title from Johnny Ruff, the holder, by a knockout.

Siki comes from Senegal, a French colonial dependency in western equatorial Africa. The inhabitants of the country are plainly "Moors" and all red Berber races and negroes. The latter, however, form the greater portion of the population.

NATIONAL REDS WIN

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 27.—Cincinnati pounded three Philadelphia pitchers for 23 hits and won the last home game of the National League season 15 to 8. The victory sent the Reds into third place, St. Louis being defeated by New York. Score:

THE IDLE WORD

THE idle word that stings is as old as human speech. Spoken thoughtlessly or spoken in a moment of irritation, it says more than the speaker meant. At least it says more than he would have said if he had taken second thought. Too often in a hasty moment one who really would not for worlds cause lasting hurt does just that because he reaches for the first remark that will register.

These idle words go deep, deep into the heart and memory of the one to whom they are addressed. If he tends to brood, he reflects: "But he could not have said that, even in a hasty moment, if it had not been the real thought of his heart. That is the way he thinks of me." Sometimes such a thoughtless saying embitters a part of a whole life, alters a friendship that had been held very dear, continues to exact its cost years after the speaker has forgotten it.

There is no way of reaching this harm by laws and courts. There is no way of resolving that one will never say the thing that causes needless hurt, except by resolving to build up a habit in one's life of saying only kindly things until quiet reflection has shown the need of something else.

This is not a text for weaklings, a counsel of meekness to the point of being trodden upon. It was not a weak man who prayed, "Set a watch before the door of my lips," nor a fool who wrote, "She openeth her mouth with wisdom, and in her tongue is the law of kindness."

THE TEMPTRESS

TEMPERANCE lecturers of a past generation used to paint a favorite picture of the beautiful young woman, daughter of the leading family of the city, offering a sparkling wine cup to the innocent young man from the farm, and thus starting him on the downward path. Of course such a thing may have happened, and may have happened repeatedly, but there is no record that it ever did, and the audience always accepted the picture as a piece of word painting by the orator and let it go at that.

So with the woman gambler who figures so prominently and colorfully in the romances of the Wild West and Alaska. Most of us consider her but a tale that is told and having no existence in fact. But now the man whose business it is to spot seagoing gamblers declares the woman gambler is replacing the man gambler aboard ocean liners and that she is far more subtle and harder to catch than a man.

If this be true, perhaps there was a foundation also for the beautiful and decollette young woman who tempted the young man to drink in days gone by. Some novelist could make a fine story about her, linking her up with the woman of 81 years who has just been turned out of the County Old Folks Home in Muskogee, Okla., because of the discovery of a complete line-making apparatus hidden under her bed, together with several quarts of the wine, which she had made of grapes stolen from the county farm. The wine-tempting woman of old would be just about that now and it would be a fitting end for her.

ALL FOR ART'S SAKE

IF the strenuous efforts of managers of actors and actresses of both the movie and speaking stage to keep them from marriage continues, the stage will doubtless find itself under the same suspicion as the woman's college—of being a discourager of matrimony. While the stage for a long time has been accused of promoting the short-term marriage, it has heretofore been considered as an encourager of matrimony rather than the reverse.

But when the manager of a popular star stirs up a rumpus reaching across the continent with his telegram from Europe trying to stave off her wedding, and when the importers of another star from abroad seek insurance against her marrying while here, the stage seems bound to come in for some criticism as seeking to promote a single life.

But if the stage is convicted of discouraging matrimony, it cannot at the same time be accused of encouraging divorce, unless indeed it can be proven that there are more divorces than there are marriages. While this is not likely, it must be remembered that Tony Weller disclosed just as strange a state of affairs when he remarked that there were many more widows married than single women.

Reflecting on the price probably was what made King Coal a merry old soul.

ON THE ATLANTIC
BY O. O. MCINTYRE

ON THE ATLANTIC, Sept. 27.—Today I experienced my first storm at sea. "A bit of a wind" the purser called it, holding tightly to his desk to keep his feet. It was about 9 o'clock that my optimistic friend who has crossed 58 times, called attention to a tiny black cloud in the southwest. I suddenly remembered important things to do in my stateroom.

After a half hour there was a lively scurry in the hallways and the closing of portholes. My wife suggested we go on deck and gaze at the "mountainous waves." The look I gave her is nobody's business.

"We'll stay right here!" I said—but we didn't for the ship decided to sit down or something and I went under the wash basin and she against a trunk. "Set 'em up in the other alley!" I cried, determined to be always merry and bright in the very teeth of the gale.

Then the ship began to shiver and plunge and roll over on one side. The steward came with his infernal "rat-de-tat-ta—(pause) tat-tat." He wanted to know if there was anything he could do. I told him he might go up in the library and bring me a prayer book.

And as he went away I called, "If you can't get that, bring us another set of life preservers." Down below I could hear the jangle of many bells. And would you believe it, across the hall a group of young athletes on a world tour began to sing: "Many brave hearts are asleep in the deep."

At one of the gigantic clips my one-legged typewriter scooted off the dressing table and struck me in the back of the neck. It fell to the floor with a whirr and snapping of springs. But somehow I didn't care. I figured my writing days were ended anyhow.

It was all over as quickly as it began. The ship began to steady. Sun streamed through the portholes and when I reached the promenade people were doing their turns as if nothing had happened. The orchestra was playing for lunch, but I noticed a decided paleness. And most of the male passengers were headed for the bar.

All the ladies are wearing their new Parisian gowns. There is a reason. When the gowns are worn it lessens the custom duty in New York. The short skirt is passe. Nearly all skirts now hardly miss trailing the ground. The shoes are low heeled.

In a deck chair on the port side is a red-headed Apollo. He is big and upstanding with a Grecian profile the ladies adore. He wears white flannels and a rakish soft hat. Several young flappers are unable to keep away from his side of the ship. This afternoon he was down in the hold. He has a group of trained monkeys that he is going to present in vaudeville. And all the girls think he is a Duke of some sort.

Each day the clock jumps back 40 minutes. At 12 o'clock there is a short blast of a siren and this is notice for passengers to turn back their watches. There is a young lady on board with an anklet watch and if she is on deck when the siren toots she discreetly retires to the inner recesses.

The florist who coined the phrase "Say It With Flowers" is a passenger. He has been over in Europe on a wild orchid hunt. If you'd ask the ordinary man to go on an orchid hunt he'd probably feel like slapping you in the face with a perfumed puff ball. As a matter of fact, he tells me, that collectors have been lured into strange unknown regions and faced death at the hands of savages and wild men in New Guinea and Madagascar. Trailing the orchid, offers almost as many thrills as tracking the tiger. There are scores of martyrs to this botanical science. Bones of orchid hunters are bleached on many sun-scorched sands.
